Feed Student's Minds with Creative Nutrition Messaging

Your cafeteria is a source of school pride and a great venue for quick messages about good-tasting food, nutrition and the benefits that come from eating well. Get inspired by some of the following products from Learning ZoneXpress that can help you personalize your cafeteria, promote healthy choices, and enhance your foodservice's image.

Encourage students to try new whole grains, fruits, and vegetables. Offer bite-size samples of your healthiest items and award youngsters with an "I Tried It" sticker or a "Eat a Rainbow of Colors Every Day" bookmark.

◀ Grains Warning Poster

Poster text reads: Whole Grains? Who needs 'em? Those annoying fiber flecks and seeds just make you stronger. For quality time with your TV and tissue box, steer clear of whole-grain health.

◀ Grains Bulletin Board

Make half your grains whole and inform others all about grains with relevant nutrition information featured in this bulletin board kit.
